

WHAT IS CLAIMED:

1. An electrical motor system, comprising, a motor having a stator with one or more stator coils, a rotor, and a gap between the stator and rotor for storing magnetic energy, and a capacitor connected in series with at least one stator coil to form an LCR circuit therewith.